

About IPA

Founded in 1982, the International Psychogeriatric Association (IPA) is a unique and diverse professional healthcare community promoting better geriatric mental health – across disciplines, across borders, and across geriatric issues. Psychiatrists, Scientists, Neurologists, Geriatricians, Primary Care Physicians, Epidemiologists, Nurses, Psychologists, Occupational Therapists, Social Workers and many other healthcare professionals come to the IPA community from all over the world to discuss, learn, share and research information about behavioral and biological aspects of geriatric mental health.

IPA Member Benefits

- Subscription to International Psychogeriatrics, IPA's multidisciplinary peer-reviewed journal published monthly
- Subscription to the IPA Bulletin, IPA's membership newsletter
- Reduced rates and access to IPA congress and meetings
- IPA Online – the IPA website – including the IPA Member Area with special features including access to fellow members and The IPA Complete Guide to Behavioral and Psychological Symptoms of Dementia (BPSD)
- Participation in IPA Member Forums, IPA's in-person and online groups which enable members to meeting, communicate, and collaborate with IPA colleagues around the world. Groups include: Regional Initiative Forums (groups by geographic areas); Professional Discipline Forums (groups such as nurses, psychologists, primary care physicians, social workers, and occupational therapists); and Shared Interest Forums (interest groups ranging from long term care to young onset dementia to testamentary capacity)

SEPG About SEPG

The Spanish Society of Psychogeriatrics (SEPG) was created in 1988 by a group of psychiatrists interested in the mental health problems of older people on the basis that Gerontopsychiatry had reached sufficient maturity to establish itself as a new subspecialty of psychiatry in Spain. SEPG improves awareness and advances the special biological, psychological and social support needs of older people, the needs of their carers, and the impact of treatment requirements of their illnesses and mental health issues.

About APG

The Associação Portuguesa de Gerontopsiquiatria (APG) will hold its annual meeting in conjunction with the IPA / SEPG 2019 Joint International Congress in Santiago de Compostela, Spain. APG activities include two symposiums. For more information please see www.apgonline.org

WELCOME MESSAGES

Dear colleagues,

It is a great pleasure to present the final programme for the 2019 IPA/SEPG Joint International Congress and to extend greetings to all of you.

The Congress motto reflects both the spirit of this city and the essence of IPA. Since the Middle Ages innumerable have been the pilgrims who crossed Europe to reach Santiago, walking from the East through the French Way, by boat from the North, the English Way, or by the Portuguese Way from the South. Many pathways, walkers with different cultures converging on a common goal, contributing thus to outline the concept of the future Europe.

Few places in the world can better symbolize the aspiration of the IPA to constitute the agora in which the wide range of professionals necessary to improve the mental health of the elderly can be expressed. Activities as varied as basic research, clinical care, prevention; targeting proposals valid both for the people who live in their homes or in the different types of residential institutions (the kind we know today and those still waiting to be invented). In short, the IPA as a protective umbrella for professionals and a catalyst for knowledge.

In this context, you are invited to “pilgrimage” with your best baggage and share your knowledge and your illusions in the friendliest atmosphere. The venue of the Congress is the noble building of the Faculty of Medicine, at the full disposal of the Congress, in the historic campus of the five-hundred-year-old University of Santiago de Compostela.

The collaboration of a vast array of scientific societies, from Spain and other countries, with a broad Scientific Committee, led by John O'Brien, has ensured the configuration of a programme of excellence, which has been enriched by your contributions and undoubtedly reflects the interdisciplinary model of the IPA.

On behalf of the IPA and the SEPG, Welcome to Santiago de Compostela!

Dear Colleagues and friends

I am delighted to welcome you to our meeting in Santiago de Compostela. We have not joined together since our meeting in San Francisco and I am eager to re-connect with old friends and to meet new ones.

Our meeting theme: “Diversity in research informing excellence in clinical care” highlights our commitment to a multi-disciplinary approach to providing the best mental health care to aging populations across the globe. As I complete my tenure as president, I welcome you to this important meeting where we have brought together clinicians and researchers from around the world and from a range of professions and perspectives to provide a uniquely informed view of how we can provide the best care to our patients. I am particularly proud of the training activities, the workshops, and the opportunity for junior investigators to meet our seasoned clinicians and scientists. These activities fulfill the essence of the IPA mission of supporting those professionals who serve aging populations. Many people have worked to create this excellent program and I want to make special mention of our program chairs, John O’Brien, Henry Brodaty, and Gwenn Smith. This international team, with many volunteers giving of their time, has created a rich experience I know we will all appreciate. Also, this meeting could not happen without the local efforts of our collaborative meeting sponsor, Sociedad Espanola de Psicogeriatría (SEPG). I want to thank Dr Manuel Franco, SEPG president for his incredible support and efforts to make this meeting happen. Finally, my sincere gratitude to Raymundo Mateos, our immediate past president who has mentored me through this important activity. These two men have provided great leadership as Co-Chairs to create this stimulating agenda.

So, thank you all for joining us and welcome to a very exciting meeting

Mary Sano, PhD
President, IPA

2019 IPA AWARDS

2019 IPA Junior Research Awards in Psychogeriatrics

Presented in conjunction with IPA Congresses, the IPA Junior Research Awards in Psychogeriatrics are an example of IPA's commitment to presenting groundbreaking work to its members and developing new leaders. These prestigious awards were created to encourage and reward junior researchers and recognize the best, original, unpublished research in the field of Psychogeriatrics.

We applaud all of those who submitted their work and we encourage everyone to attend the Junior Research Award winner's session taking place on Sunday, 1 September 2019 from 13:15-14:45.

First Place Winner

Daniel J. Hoyle, Australia

Clinical impact of antipsychotic and benzodiazepine reduction: Findings from a multicomponent psychotropic reduction program within long-term aged care

Second Place Winner

Joshua M. Baruth, United States
End-of life Care in Schizophrenia: A Systematic Review

Third Place Winner

Awirut Oon-arom, Thailand
Attachment anxiety, depression, and perceived social support: a moderated mediation model of suicide ideation among the elderly

We want to express our sincere appreciation to the Junior Research Award selection committee for their conscientious work:

GENERAL INFORMATION

About Santiago de Compostela

The city has a current population of 95,800. It was originally a stopping point on a Roman road, but the discovery of the Apostle (Santiago) James' tomb at the beginning of the 9th century gave rise to a place of worship in the corner of the Iberian Peninsula. Visitors will find its treasures exhibited in sixteen museums as well as the surprising richness of its contemporary architecture, designed by Eisenman, Hedjuk or Siza, surrounded by Galicia's largest area of parks and gardens.

The main attraction of the city is the old town. Several visits could be carried out within it or around it. For more information, visit the Tourism Office official web:

<http://www.santiagoturismo.com/>

Registration Desk

The registration desk is located in the East Lounge and will be open during the following dates and times:

Saturday, 31 August	08:00 – 17:30
Sunday, 1 September	08:00 – 18:00
Tuesday, 2 September	08:00 – 18:00
Wednesday, 3 September	08:00 – 14:00

Venue

School of Medicine of the University of Santiago de Compostela.

Rúa de San Francisco, s/n, 15782 Santiago de Compostela, A Coruña

VFM3+2Q Santiago de Compostela

Nowadays, the University of Santiago de Compostela has approximately 23,000 students, 63 degrees, and 30 Schools. It also has 3 Campi, 13 Research Centres and 342 Research Groups.

The School of Medicine is part of the Old Town Campus, with some historic buildings as the Rector's Office at San Xerome Palace, Fonseca Palace and the Schools of Medicine, Geography and History, and Philosophy.

Exhibition Hall and Poster Hall

The exhibition and poster hall is located on the first floor and will be open during the following dates and times:
